FORMER PASS CONSTABLE IS VICTIM OF STABBING

Royal Canadian Mounted Police Constable Mike Moriarity, stationed at Carbon, Alberta, was stabbed in the leg by an intoxicated man whom he was attempting to arrest last Friday night at Carbon. The knife thrust passed through the top boot worn by mounted policemen, but the wound did not become infected and he is now convalescing at his home.

Constable Moriarity is a former Southern Albertan, having been stationed as a member of the old Alberta Provincial Police force at Bellevue from 1920 to 1922. After that year he was transferred to Hanna and in 1925 to Big Valley. He remained at the latter detachment until he was taken over by the R.C.M.P. and sent to Carbon.

Mike O'Brien, miner of Carbon, who is charged with the stabbing, was placed under arrest by Constable Radcliffe, of the Drumheller detachment, R.C.M.P.

He appeared before V. B. Hawkins, J.P. of Carbon, Saturday, and was committed for trial. The prisoner was brought to Drumheller following the commitment.

FORMER MANAGER SUES FOR SALARY

Edmonton, Sept. 21.—Action for the recovery of $9,074 alleged to be due in wages, salary and money loaned to defendants, was commenced before Mr. Justice Ford in the Supreme Court on Wednesday by S. W. Gebo against the Gebo Coal Company, Limited, and Carbon Collieries, Limited.

Plaintiff claims that in 1927, he purchased a coal lease near Leduc and organized the Gebo Coal Company. He was appointed managing director at a salary of $6,000 a year. He spent all of his time and much of his own money in furthering the company's interests. He later sold his lease to one McCloskey, on the understanding that he would take over liabilities, including plaintiff's salary and other liabilities. McCloskey later formed Carbon Collieries, which took over the agreement made by McCloskey. The agreements, it is alleged, were not fulfilled and action was commenced. The case is continuing.

"Sam" Gebo will be remembered by many old timers of The Pass. For a number of years, in the early days of Frank, he was connected with coal mining in that town. A couple of years ago, Mr. Gebo paid The Pass a visit.

GEORGE ARLISS, STAR AND CO-AUTHOR OF PLAY

"Alexander Hamilton" the Warner Bros. production starring George Arliss, which comes to the Orpheum theatre for three days beginning Monday next, is based on the play "Hamilton" which was written by Mr. Arliss in collaboration with Mary Hamilton, and was phenomenally successful on the stage some years ago.

The play deals with a dramatic episode in the life of the great statesman, when the wiles of a pretty adventuress temporarily held him in her power, and caused a scandal which only his outspoken confession of his infatuation for the woman—which had in no way implicated him in dishonest dealings with the affairs of the country—cleared up.

NIGHT CLASSES IN MINING

A meeting will be held in the general office of the West Canadian Collieries Limited, at Blaimore, on Friday evening, at 7.30, for the purpose of forming a night class in mining for the coming winter.

As second-class mining will be taken up this year, it is necessary that all those interested in this work should attend this meeting, so we can get organized and started at once, as it will be necessary to do so if we are to go through the whole course this winter.

This class will, of course, be run in connection with the Institute of Technology and Art, and under the supervision of the local School Board.

M. H. CONGDON, Instructor.

GIRL GUIDE NEWS

The Blaimore Girl Guides have resumed their regular meetings after a short interval of rest during the summer holidays. The girls, and their leaders, went on occasional hikes during the summer.

Mr. Vissac very kindly loaned a truck for an enjoyable trip to Leo Lake, where the Guides had a good time swimming and playing games, and then participating in a picnic lunch. The last hike was for the purpose of a corn roast, which took place after school on Friday, September 16. Another hike is anticipated for this week if the weather holds good.

The Canary Patrol felt very keenly the loss of their patrol leader, Miss Betty Grieg, who took a very keen interest in Guide work, and proved a capable and popular leader. Veranda Packer, the patrol's second, has succeeded to her place.

CHEVALIER SAYS PEOPLE NOW SPEAK HIS NAME CORRECTLY

Maurice Chevalier's greatest motion picture problem has been in trying to get the public to pronounce his name correctly, the French star told newspapermen, as he stepped off the Santa Fe train in Hollywood upon his return to America.

"After more than two years in American peck-tures," said Chevalier, at the depot, "the pub-lick knows how to speak my name. I had a terrible time at first, but now everyone knows that it's Say-val-yay."

Just then, a taxi driver walked up and said: "Your car's ready, Mr. Chevalier."

"One Hour With You," which is showing at the Orpheum for the balance of the week, is the latest starring vehicle of the inimitable Maurice Chevalier, who is again supported in the leading feminine role by Jeannette MacDonald, who shared honors with him in "The Love Parade."

MACHRAY SENTENCED TO SEVEN YEARS ON EACH OF TWO THEFT CHARGES

Pleading guilty, upon the advice of his counsel, John A. Machray, of Winnipeg, ex-millionaire and prominent lawyer and churchman, was sentenced to seven years at hard labor on each of two theft charges in connection with the Manitoba University trust fund shortages. While counsel advised the plea of guilty, at the same time it was contended that the theft was not actually one of taking the money and placing it to personal advantage, but rather by conversion in an endeavor to stem financial disaster.

Machray was immediately taken to the Stony Mountain penitentiary. The prosecuting attorney in his address to the court stated that the case was a tremendous blow to public confidence, which was a more serious factor than the actual loss of the money involved.

Farms and Farm Mortgages

In these days when so much is heard of the burden of mortgage indebtedness carried by the farmers of the Dominion, and more especially of Western Canada, the official figures contained in the bulletin recently issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics at Ottawa, and which are based on information compiled in the census taking of last year, are of more than passing interest. Furthermore, they are important and encouraging in that they dissipate the prevailing impression that, with but few exceptions, the farms of Western Canada are under heavy mortgage. The fact is that two out of every three farms in Canada have no mortgage debt, and while the number of mortgaged farms is naturally higher in a more recently settled country like the three prairie provinces, even in these provinces less than one-half of the farms are mortgaged. This is quite different from the oft-repeated assertions that 80 to 90 per cent. of all Western farms are mortgaged.

This census bulletin is replete with interesting and valuable information, but space will permit mention of only a few of the highlights of the report. Of the 728,664 farms in Canada in 1931, full owners of farms numbered 586,299, part owners and part tenants 67,942, and tenants only 74,382, with 41 unclassified in the Yukon.

While the number of "full owners" decreased by 28,842 in the ten years elapsing since 1921, the number of part owners and part tenants increased by 27,978 and tenants only by 18,437. In the three prairie provinces fully owned farms comprise 77,064,201 acres, and rented farms 32,718,401 acres. Of the partly owned and partly rented farms in these three provinces, 16,078,801 acres are owned and 15,773,536 acres rented.

The average size of all farms in Canada is 224.48 acres, the average size in Ontario being 118.86 acres and in Quebec 130.58 acres, and in the West the average is much larger, it being 279.19 acres in Manitoba, 400.15 acres in Alberta, and 407.95 acres in Saskatchewan.

The value of land in farms in Canada is stated to be $2,704,760,300, Saskatchewan ranking first with $781,124,800, Ontario second with $577,437,900, Alberta third with $525,272,800, Quebec fourth with $422,100,400, and Manitoba fifth with $209,270,300.

The value of buildings on farms in Canada totals $1,341,463,000, Ontario coming first with $487,009,300, Quebec second with $256,178,200, Saskatchewan third with $223,944,900, Alberta fourth with $137,333,900, and Manitoba fifth with $88,389,200.

Combining land and buildings values, Ontario is first, Saskatchewan second, Quebec third, Alberta fourth, and Manitoba fifth.

Coming back to the subject mentioned in the opening paragraph of this article, "Mortgages," it is to be noted that at the census of 1931 every farm owner in Canada was asked, for the first time, to state the total mortgage on his farm. The mortgage debt reported under this inquiry included not only the debt secured by an instrument called a "mortgage" but also debts protected by deeds of trust, judgments, or by other legal instrument that partakes of the nature of a mortgage, and which has the same legal effect. The answer to this question did not include debts covered by crop liens, nor debts secured by liens on implements, machinery or live stock. Nor did the inquiry apply to farms or parts of farms rented.

The tabulated results show that 244,201 farms out of the total of 728,664 farms in Canada, or 33 1/2 per cent. were mortgaged to the aggregate amount of $677,564,100, or 16 1/2 per cent. of the value of all farms, and approximately 50 per cent. of the value of owned farms to which the inquiry was restricted.

Out of a total of 192,174 farms in Ontario, 71,604 reported mortgages amounting in all to $120,751,000, or 37.26 per cent. of the total. The average mortgage in Ontario was $2,818, and the ratio of mortgage to the value of all farms 18.95 per cent. The figures for Quebec and the Maritime Provinces are considerably lower.

Contrasting Ontario with the three prairie provinces we find: Manitoba—54,199 farms; 18,949, or 34.96 per cent. of the total, reporting mortgages amounting to $90,070,100; average mortgage $3,170; ratio of mortgage to value of farms 20.81 per cent.

Saskatchewan—136,472 farms; 56,587, or 41.46 per cent. of the total, reporting mortgages amounting to $177,620,800; average mortgage $3,139; ratio of mortgage to value of farms 17.67 per cent.

Alberta—97,408 farms; 34,305, or 35.22 per cent. of the total, reporting mortgages amounting to $108,463,700; average mortgage $3,162; ratio of mortgage to value of farms 16.37 per cent.

It will be seen, therefore, that in these newer provinces the percentage of farms mortgaged is not much higher than in old settled Ontario; that the average mortgage is not much larger; and that the ratio of mortgages to the value of the farms is lower in Alberta and Saskatchewan and only slightly higher in the case of Manitoba—a truly remarkable showing for this newer country, much of it still in the pioneering stage of development, and a showing that should be full of encouragement for the future.

Children's Roll Of Honor

Many Names On Record In County Hall, London, England

In one of the corridors of the County Hall, London, England, on a Roll of Honor, there are the names of nearly 400 school children who have received Royal Humane Society awards for saving, or attempting to save, persons from drowning at great risk to themselves. This Roll is one of the most cherished possessions of the London Schools Swimming Association, which for 40 years has been doing splendid work among children. The ages of the brave children range from ten to 14 years.

An instrument has been devised by which the applause in an audience can be measured as to its intensity and duration.

Troubled With Her Children Having Summer Complaint

Mrs. L. E. Montgomery, Ave. K. South, Saskatoon, Sask., writes:—"I am the mother of two children and have a great deal of trouble with them having summer complaint, in fact, several times every Summer they were subject to attacks."

"I have found Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry to be the most effective remedy and keep it always handy and give it immediately on the first sign of any bowel complaint."

"I thank Dr. Fowler's. I no longer dread the Summer months."

Static Eliminator Proves Successful

Device Was Invented By British Post Office Engineer

The bans of every radio listener is static. Nothing is more annoying to one who has made up his mind to enjoy a "peaceful" program than to have it utterly ruined by interference.

Despite the tendency of a few American writers to snuff a little at the British Broadcasting Company, there are several ways in which British listeners have the advantage over listeners on this side of the Atlantic. There is the absence of advertising, of course, and the B.B.C. can do what American networks have not yet made a practice of—send two programs over the same wavelength, thus giving more room on the air and eliminating interference. Now they have a static eliminator which so definitely does what it claims to do, that the British Post Office has officially taken up the invention and is urging listeners to buy one and attach it to their sets. The device was the brainchild of a Post Office engineer working in a Government research laboratory. It is guaranteed to eliminate interference from street lamps, vacuum cleaners or any other electrical apparatus.

Radio is making gigantic strides in Great Britain. British manufacturers have figured on a turnover this year of $150,000,000, or 1,800,000 new sets, at an average price of only $85, compared with an average of $125 last year.

There are 300 exhibitors at the radio exhibition in London's Olympia this fall. Britain has about 5,000,000 receiving sets in use now, and listeners can tune in on some 200 stations in Europe.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

Increase In Indian Population

More Indians In Canada Now Than Ever Before

Department of Indian Affairs officials expressed the opinion there are more Indians in Canada now than when the first white man landed in this country. The total Indian population in the Dominion gives the total number of red men as 122,920, compared with the last department census total of 108,012.

United States has an Indian population of 382,297 according to the 1930 census. Canada's population is divided:

Ontario, 3,363; British Columbia, 24,599; Manitoba, 15,417; Saskatchewan, 15,268; Alberta, 15,238; Quebec, 12,312; North West Territories, 4,046; Nova Scotia, 2,191; New Brunswick, 1,885; Yukon, 1,543; Prince Edward Island, 233.

Give No Autographs

The King of England and his son, the Prince of Wales, have turned thumbs down on autographing. George Bailey, director of the British consular-general in Boston, announced that his majesty and his royal highness have laid down as a rule never to give their autographs, and that no exception to this rule can be made in any circumstances whatever.

Canada's Wood Pulp Exports

The total quantity of wood-pulp exported from Canada in 1930 according to the figures lately issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, in co-operation with the forest service department of the interior, was 760,220 tons, valued at $39,099,978. The average value was thus $51.38 per ton.

"The prettiest dress at the picnic" everybody said

"I must tell you about going to a big, all-day picnic," writes a woman from Ontario. "I thought I couldn't go because I had nothing fit to wear and couldn't afford a new dress. The day before, the druggist showed me a wonderful new tint powder made by the people who make Diamond Dyes, which I have often seen in dyeing dark colors. These new Diamond Tints, he explained, are the same high quality as Diamond Dyes. The difference is they are for light shades and don't require boiling. I had a dress, left from last year, which faded and was so streaked and ugly I was ashamed to wear it. I decided to try Diamond Tints. I got the loveliest green! I got to the picnic after all and everybody said my dress was the prettiest one there, thanks to these new Diamond Tints."

Women Loggers Work At Vancouver Inlet

Are Making Good and Not Avoiding Tough Spots

Logging has always been classed as work for men, and hard-muscled brawny men at that. But over at Deep Cove, across the Inlet from Vancouver, husky young women are engaged in this industry. And they aren't avoiding the tough spots either.

One woman recently exhibited five cords of single bolt which represented her work for the week. "It's hard work all right," she admitted, "but it gets easier as you go along. At first it was heart-breaking and I felt that my back would snap in two, but my muscles all right and I'd sooner be working here in the woods than somewhere down in the city."

The women loggers aren't all burly specimens of their sex. One woman is the mother of three children. She is only about two feet tall and there are muscles in her arms they are well concealed. But with the aid of a patient horse she managed to handle a prodigious amount of fallen timber during a day.

Help For Asthma. Neglect gives asthma a great advantage. The trouble, once it has secured a foothold, fastens its grip on the bronchial tubes. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy is daily benefiting cases of asthma of long standing. Years of suffering, however, might have been prevented had the remedy been used when the trouble was in its first stages. Use Mother Gray's but use this preparation at once.

Rush Seems To Be Over

People Are No More Crowding Into United States

Apparently the rush to America as a land of opportunity for people of all races has come to an end. Free land which is still available is not worth cultivating. Jobs are at a premium here as they are in every other part of the world. The American economic system has arrived at a period of maturity when phenomenal growth can no longer be expected. The waste places have filled up, and industry has grown to a point where the by-product of consumption, needs. Henceforth the economic development of the United States should be slower and more steady.—Washington, D.C. Post.

To have the children sound and healthy is the first care of a mother. They cannot be healthy if troubled with worms. Use Mother Gray's Worm Exterminator.

Mail Carrier Demonstrates Wireless Telephone Without Any Tubes

What is believed to be the first wireless telephone communication without tubes in transmission and reception was successfully demonstrated recently when Walter Beans, proprietor of a roadside restaurant along the Lackawanna Trail, demonstrated his invention to a group of witnesses.

Beans talked over his home-made tubeless and wireless telephone for 30 minutes over a distance of more than 100 feet. A hand-set and mouth-piece was set in one building and a similar apparatus in another some distance away. Beans' set was operated on a six-volt battery, and practically all the parts were made by the inventor, who has been experimenting for some time.

Beans, who was formerly a mail carrier at Doylestown, Pennsylvania, said that the time is near when wireless, tubeless telephone systems can be installed, with a central exchange operating in the same manner as at the present time. Development and establishment of this science will save an enormous operating cost, he believes.

Beans also declared that he could show the cause of the fluctuation of the magnetic needle as a result of extensive experiments which, he says, were successfully terminated on March 9, this year, leading to the wireless and tubeless telephone.

A Big Undertaking

Factory Moved With No Loss Of Working Time

A complete engineering factory has been removed from London to Chippenham, 94 miles away, without the loss of a single working hour.

At the end of every working day for three weeks a number of the machines were dismantled and removed to the new factory. They were immediately installed and were ready for work again the following morning.

Every employee, with his family and household effects, moved to Chippenham, during the time that the particular piece of machinery which was his work to tend was being moved. Thus he finished work in London in the evening and started work at Chippenham the following morning.

Altogether, 750 tons of machinery, the furniture of 38 families, and more than 100 people were moved.

Diet Requires Fats

Fats Constitute A Protection Against Tuberculosis

A notable fact is that diet plays a most important part in combating tuberculosis. After the German occupation of Warsaw there was an alarming increase in tuberculosis, because the Germans removed so much fat of all kinds as they could with the people of Warsaw were able to return to a diet containing sufficient fat, the tuberculosis declined rapidly. It is generally accepted that a diet rich in fats constitutes a definite protection against tuberculosis. Efforts made to reduce dust in factories are also cited as a contributory cause of the decline, as well as sanitation, water supply, and personal hygiene.—Montreal Star.

Do not allow worms to sap the vitality of your children. If not attended to, worms may wreck irreplaceable harm to the constitution of the infant. The little sufferers cannot voice their ailment, but there are many signs by which mothers are made aware that a dose of Miller's Worm Powders is necessary. These powders act quickly and will expel worms from the system without any inconvenience to the child.

Monaco Faces Bankruptcy

Financial Position Of World's Smallest Municipality Is Serious

Monaco, the world's smallest principality, in which is located Monte Carlo, famous gambling centre, has been hard hit by the world depression, and the consequent unemployment is causing grave alarm. M. Bouillon-Lafont, vice-president of the French Chamber of Deputies, has been made minister of state for Monaco, Prince Louis himself has been conferring with the French ministry and from this it is evident that he regards the financial affairs of his country as serious. As a matter of fact, the principality is threatened with bankruptcy.

IN TEARS WITH PAIN OF RHEUMATISM

"For six weeks," a woman writes, "I had rheumatism, mostly in my feet and wrists. In fact, I have been in tears with the pain. Owing to stomach trouble, I could not take any kind of medicine, as it made me feel sick. So a lady said I should try Kruschen Salts. I am so very thankful that I did so, for now I feel completely restored. I have not been taking anything else, so it must be Kruschen that has relieved me."—Mrs. C.

The six mineral salts of Kruschen have a direct effect upon the whole bloodstream, neutralizing uric acid, which is the recognized cause of rheumatism. They also restore the eliminating organs to proper working order, and so prevent constipation, thereby checking the further formation of uric acid and other body poisons which undermine the health.

Wilkins Is Planning Smaller Submarine

Will Likely Be Ready For Polar Trip Next Year

Sir Hubert Wilkins, the Arctic explorer who dashed for the North Pole in the submarine "Nautilus" in 1931, has been in Oslo, Norway, arranging for a possible new under-water attack on the Pole next year.

Sir Hubert, who went to Oslo to confer with Prof. Harold Sydrup, one of his companions on last year's expedition, says that he will use a new submarine only half the size of the "Nautilus," and carrying a crew of ten.

It is expected that the new vessel will be much easier to handle than the "Nautilus." The machinery will not be so complicated and therefore less affected by the cold.

The submarine, to be built either in England or Germany, will be 120 feet long. The new craft, shaped much like an airship, will have an engine developing 250 to 350 horsepower. The cost of the submarine will be about $100,000.

Sir Hubert estimates that the building of the submarine will take about six months, and that the expedition will be ready for a start in 1933.

Part of the crew will be Norwegian, because of the importance in the Arctic. Sir Hubert hopes that Prof. Sydrup will take part in the expedition as scientific leader.

The object of the expedition will be not only to cross the North Pole under the ice but to reach a point between the North Pole and Alaska, where scientific observations can be made.

Trust Funds Safe

Ontario Check-Up Reports Every-thing Intact

All trust funds of the Ontario government and monies of commissions under government are intact and in good financial condition, Hon. W. H. Price, attorney-general and attorney-general, announced after completion of a thorough check-up of audits instituted following the recent disclosure in Manitoba. The funds so involved would amount to several hundred millions of dollars, in principal and yearly turn-over.

"The policy carried out by the government has been to have continuous audits of public funds," declared Hon. Price. "The government is placed in the position in all departments to ask for information at all times. While some inquiries have been made, the public can be satisfied that all our trust funds, under the statutes and various commissions of the government are intact and in good shape."

A Pertinent Question

An elderly lady walked into the Bank of England and presented a parcel of War Loans. "Is this for conversion or redemption, madam?" asked the official. "Young man," was the reply, "is this the Bank of England or the Church of England?"

The first thing a man with a new automobile runs into is debt.

EARLY STUDY OF ARMS CUT IS PROMISED

Geneva, Switzerland.—The League of Nations council meeting was confronted with a veritable kaleidoscope of international developments, which were touched off when Russia won her point for speedy consideration of substantial arms reduction plans.

This development came in the conference bureau, a sort of steering committee for the general conference, which is expected to resume soon. Maxim Litvinoff, the Russian delegate, proposed the bureau take up the Russian proposal of the United States for a one-third cut.

The two gravest problems before the council are the German demands for equality of armaments on a threat of withdrawal from the disarmament conference, and the filing of the report on the far east prepared by Lord Lytton and his commissioners.

Baron Konstantin von Neurath, the German foreign minister, came to press Germany's demand for equality, and there was evidence league statesmen proposed to concentrate immediately on the German problem.

The Japanese were apparently deeply interested in the two reports widely circulated here: first, that France had changed its attitude towards Japan and now will be found much less friendly to Tokyo's position, and second, that Eamon de Valera, the Irish Free State president who will preside over the council, will have little sympathy with Japanese views.

Observations Will Be Given Hearing

Ex-Servicemen May Submit Memorandum To Committee

Ottawa, Ont.—Opportunity to organizations of ex-servicemen who desire to offer any observations relating to the administration of the pension act will be given by the Rinfret committee, it was decided when that body sat "in camera."

The statement adds: "It is requested that such observations should take the form of a memorandum in writing which will be placed before the committee for its consideration, if received by the secretary, Daily Building, Ottawa, before the end of September."

Manitoba Marketing Bonds

Syndicate Is Handling The Four Million Dollar Issue

Winnipeg, Man.—Manitoba's new $4,000,000 bond issue will be placed on the market at $96.75 and will yield a little better than 5.95 per cent. interest. Hon. E. A. McPherson, provincial treasurer, announced. A syndicate of eight banking and investment houses is handling the issue.

All arrangements have been completed for offering the bonds to the public, Mr. McPherson said. They will bear interest at the rate of five and one-half per cent. on their face value, and will mature in 28 years. Principal and interest are payable in Canadian funds.

Chinese Won Case

Logic Of Orient Was Convincing For Toronto Magistrate

Toronto, Ont.—Unanswerable logic of the Orient won a case for Lee Hui in health court. Lee was accused of dumping rubbish over his back fence on to a piece of city property.

Arguing his own case Lee reasoned thus: The grass on the lot was nearly a foot high but where the rubbish lay there was no grass at all. Therefore, it had lain on the ground for a much longer period than two weeks. Lee moved in only two weeks ago.

Magistrate Arthur Tinker, speechless, dismissed the case with a wave of the hand.

Ask Aid For Bay Route

Regina Men Want Traffic Department To Solicit Shipments

Ottawa, Ont.—Establishment of an active traffic department by the government which would solicit shipments for the Hudson Bay Railway and the northern ocean port of Churchill has been urged on Hon. R. J. Manion, Minister of Railways and Canals. This step was advocated by C. B. McKee, past president of the Regina Board of Trade, and George A. Ewart, present commissioner of the board.

"Mr. Manion received us very cordially and courteously," said Mr. McKee. They were assured the matter would be given consideration.

Both Regina men advanced the opinion the government, to crown its work in providing an outlet to the sea for the prairie provinces, should have an active traffic department in order that importers may route as large a portion of their goods as possible via the new trade channel.

"Through the Hudson Bay Railway, western Canada is brought 1,000 miles closer to the markets of the United Kingdom," said Mr. McKee. "When the insurance rates come down to a more equitable level, a material saving will be effected in export costs," he added.

Some 2,500,000 bushels of wheat would be exported to Great Britain this season over the northern route, and Mr. McKee stated the first shipment of 250,000 bushels had been carried out at a saving of approximately a cent a bushel.

Indians Encamped On Ancient Reserve

Take Possession Of Land Near Selkirk, Manitoba

Winnipeg, Man.—Led by a militant chief, a band of 35 families of the Saulteaux Indian tribe has encamped on a tract of land near Selkirk, Man. The Indians claim the move marks the climax of a dispute of 25 years' standing. In 1877 the band surrendered the reserve at St. Peter's and under the terms of an agreement were to get $90 per head and a reserve at Fisher River. Chief Grey Eyes, head of the band, claims his people never received $90 and have been unable to make a living on the Fisher River reserve.

Royal Canadian Mounted Police later removed 35 families from their old stamping grounds. The natives, who had been trespassing on private land since last July, camped along the road allowance.

Britain Faces Milk Strike

Better Prices For Product Is Asked By Farmers

London, England.—Britain, Tuesday night, September 20, faced a country-wide hold-up of milk supplies as a result of farmers' decision to inaugurate a "milk strike" October 1, following breakdown of negotiations between their representatives and representatives of the milk-distributing combines over contract for the forthcoming year.

A statement issued by the National Farmers' Union says the decision of the milk distributors to refuse farmers better prices for their product during the coming year renders inevitable a hold-up in the supply. Unless a last-minute step is taken, the "strike" will go into effect at the end of this month.

All Canada's Gold Comes From Mines

No Swindle Here Such As Reported From Washington

Ottawa, Ont.—Practically all the gold which flows into the mint here comes from the mines, it was stated at the department of finance.

Despatches from Washington state that action has been taken there to keep swindlers from buying gold and jewelry at bargain prices on the pretence that they want the metal for the federal government. Later this gold is melted down and taken to the mint, there to be exchanged for currency.

Apparently no such swindle has gained any headway in Canada.

Judge Of Supreme Court

Ottawa, Ont.—Mr. Justice Oswald S. Crockett, of the King's Bench Division of the Supreme Court of New Brunswick, has been appointed a judge of the Supreme Court of Canada. He fills the vacancy caused by the death late last fall of Mr. Justice E. L. Newcombe, a former member of the Nova Scotia Bar.

MENTIONED FOR PROMINENT POST

HOME SECRETARY EXPLAINS ACTION ON TRADE PACTS

London, England.—Trade agreements reached at the Ottawa Imperial Economic Conference by the United Kingdom and the Dominions were condemned in a resolution adopted by the executive of the National Liberal Federation.

The resolution urges the government, parliament and all electors to "seriously consider the dangers and vicious principles inserted in the Ottawa agreements and oppose them by every means in their power." However, no call is made on Liberal ministers to resign from the National government.

Sir Herbert Ingham, the minister of commerce, said the government, parliament and all electors to "seriously consider the dangers and vicious principles inserted in the Ottawa agreements and oppose them by every means in their power." However, no call is made on Liberal ministers to resign from the National government.

Plan Trip To Arctic

French Explorers May Undertake Journey Across Canada By Car

Montreal, Que.—French explorers who made expeditions into Africa and into Central Asia by caterpillar automobiles, may soon undertake a journey across Canada into the Arctic circle.

Jean Alouche, a Parisian journalist, who described the previous explorations, is in Ottawa to discuss the possibilities with General J. H. Mc'Brien, commissioner of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, and to map out for himself an advance trip into the north country. The journey reached here from France by the Cunard "Aurania."

Alouche will proceed to Vancouver and thence to northern ports of the Pacific. He will visit outposts of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and missions of the Oblate Fathers in the land of Eskimos. From Dawson City, which he knows well and has visited before, he will travel by aeroplane to Aklayik.

Hutchinson Says Route Was Safest Possible

Wrecking Of Trans-Atlantic Plane Just Bad Luck

Aberdeen, Scotland.—The Hutchinson family, who with their crew of four were rescued from the bleak Greenland coast after wrecking their trans-Atlantic plane recently, landed at Eriboll, Scotland, from the steam trawler, "Lord Talbot."

"George Hutchinson, his wife and two small children were all well, although the two girls appeared to be tired. They are en route back to New York."

"If our radio had a little more range we would have been able to pick up our bearings and would have been all right," Hutchinson said describing the incident.

Hutchinson said he wanted it understood that the adventure of his "flying family" was not a "stunt flight."

"The children have always been with us in our flying," he said. "Our route was the safest possible and we were only 14 miles from safety when the accident happened. It was just a bit of bad luck."

Saskatchewan May Have London Agent

Premier Anderson Intimated Appointment Was Being Considered

Saskatoon, Sask.—Speaking at a meeting here of the Kiwanis Club, Premier Anderson intimated his government was considering the appointment of a Saskatchewan agent in London, England.

He said one of the duties of such an official would be to see that all merchandise leaving Great Britain for the prairies was routed via Churchill and Hudson Bay. In addition, the agent would develop trade for Saskatchewan in British markets. He also declared the people of Saskatchewan were by insisting that goods be brought in by the Bay could greatly assist in developing the route.

Japan May Leave League

New York.—Hiroshi Satō, arriving in this country to be chargé d'affaires at the Japanese embassy during Ambassador Katsuki Debauchi's leave of absence, declared his country "would not hesitate a minute" to withdraw from the League of Nations if it finds itself "compelled" to by the report compiled by the commission headed by Lord Lytton of the United Kingdom.

Court Rules Firm Bankrupt

Investment Firm Of Machinery and Sharpe Out Of Business

Winnipeg, Man.—The second firm with which J. A. Machray, former bursar of the University of Manitoba, chancellor of Church of England and prominent Winnipeg lawyer was associated, has passed out of existence. The investment firm of Machray and Sharpe was declared bankrupt and let Saturday the legal firm of Machray, Sharpe, Parker, Crawley and Richardson, was dissolved.

Evidence revealed at the hearing of the bankruptcy petition is only a small part of the tale that yet will have to be told. Mr. Justice Macdonald declared in granting the university's petition.

The hearing, which Mr. Justice Macdonald said had revealed "alarming disclosures," disclosed that books of the company were kept in a "slipshod manner" that all monies handled by the firm were kept in a single bank account, that the company books were audited by an accountant from the Manitoba government comptroller-general's office, also engaged by Machray and Sharpe, that the firm had cash assets of only $600, and that clients were notified periodically that all accounts were in order though some trust accounts had not even been totalled in the last 16 or 17 years.

Lawyer Drowned At Coast

E. C. Saville Lost Life When Boat Was Upset

Salmon Arm, B.C.—Eustace Claude Saville, barrister and solicitor here for more than 20 years, was drowned while fishing off the Adams River, 35 miles from here on Shuswap Lake.

Saville was in a boat with Major H. W. Roberts when it overturned. Another fishing party went to their aid, rescuing Major Roberts, but Saville had evidently been drawn under by the strong current.

PREMIER ISSUES SUMMARY OF RAILWAY PROBE

Ottawa, Ont.—Complete revolution in control and regulation of all railways as well as in the control and management of the National system is directly implied by the official abstract of the report of the Duff transportation commission issued by Prime Minister Bennett.

Three recommendations open an unbridgeable chasm between railway administration in the past and railway administration in the future. They are:

- 1.—Abolition of the present National Railway directors and the substitution as the supreme body of control of a board of three trustees.
- 2.—Provision for a joint committee composed of National Railway trustees and Canadian Pacific directors to formulate and put into operation joint economies to remove application, to prevent unnecessary competition.
- 3.—Creation of a super-control board, called an arbitral board, of three members to decide matters upon which the joint committee cannot agree.

This board, within a defined, but wide, field of jurisdiction, is to have authority over both railways as well as over the board of railway commissioners. From a decision of the arbitral board there is to be, really, no appeal.

These are the major recommendations, but there are others:

- 1.—There is a thinly-veiled reference to the "inelasticity" of freight rates being one of the important contributing factors in the present problem. This can have reference only to the Crown's Nest Pass rates, enforced on the railways by statute in 1925. The complete report, when issued, seems likely to carry a recommendation that statutory or inelastic control of railways be withdrawn.
- 2.—There is an intimation that an official plan for the National Railways will be found in the official text of the report, which indicates that the National's capital structure may be up for revision.

In the negative sense, the report is important because it strongly condemns any scheme of railway amalgamation or of the leasing of the National to the Canadian Pacific.

Accompanying the abstract of the report is a brief statement from Premier R. B. Bennett, in which he declares that legislation giving effect to the recommendations which the government decides are in the public interest, will be introduced shortly after parliament opens in October.

REVIEW SHOWS CANADA IN GOOD EXPORT POSITION

Ottawa, Ont.—The present crop year commenced with Canada occupying a favorable export position—undoubtedly the best position held by the Dominion since 1928. The Canadian position at the present time is largely due to two main factors, namely, lack of foreign competition and price levels on a sound export basis. So says the monthly review of the wheat situation, issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

In regard to the domestic situation in Canada, it is stated that: "The large wheat crop combined with a good export demand for Canadian wheat, is stimulating the movement of grain to terminal markets. During the past seven weeks the movement of wheat internally and externally has shown a decided improvement over the movement of the same weeks last year. Deliveries to country elevators, the movement from country elevators to terminal markets, the movement down the Great Lakes and finally the export movement, are all above last year."

"Of particular interest is the brisk movement of Canadian wheat into export trade and into export position. For the seven weeks ending September 16, 1932, 38 million bushels of wheat were shipped by water from Port Arthur and Fort William compared with 25 million bushels for the corresponding weeks last year."

Prince Opens British Trade Exhibition

Copenhagen, Denmark.—Eight thousand Danish accorded an enthusiastic reception to the Prince of Wales when he arrived to open the British trade exhibition.

The prince came by aeroplane from England, setting foot on German soil for the first time since the World War during a stopover at Hamburg. He reached Rostock airport, near here, at 6:25 p.m. A fleet of Danish military and naval aircraft flew over the fleet.

"It has been 20 years since I visited Denmark," the prince commented. His distant cousin, Crown Prince Frederik, greeted him on his arrival. The Prince of Wales' grandmother was the Danish Princess Alexandra.

Other members of the royal family joined in welcoming him.

Further Pay Cut For C.P.R. Officials

President Hopes Reduction Will Not Be For Long

Montreal, Que.—On October 1 salary reductions will be effected among all the higher officials of the Canadian Pacific Railway. According to an official statement the president, directors and members of the executive committee will accept a cut of 15 per cent. Salaries of general, district, divisional and departmental officials will be lowered 10 per cent.

Hope was expressed by E. W. Beatty, president of the railway, that it will not be necessary to continue the reduced rate for too long a period, and that the former salary schedule will eventually be restored.

Three Firms Are Losers

Thieves Carry Away Safe Containing Two Thousand Dollars

Winnipeg, Man.—Cracksmen broke into the office of the Corona Lumber Company at Starbuck, near here and carried away a safe containing about $2,000. The cash belonged to the Ogilvie Milling Company, the Manitoba Wheat Pool and Western Canada Elevators, Limited. Books containing the details of the amount belonging to each firm were in the safe. The burglars escaped in a stolen truck.

ENLARGED MUNICIPAL AREAS

Consideration of the Alberta government's proposed plan of enlarged municipal districts, as announced some time ago, has advanced another stage with the presentation of the plan to the association of municipal districts for discussion. The scheme has been before the executive of that association for some weeks, and the complete details will come before the convention of the association in November.

In the meantime the government itself has been giving further consideration to the whole plan, discussion in the cabinet bearing chiefly upon the general principles involved.

It will be remembered from the announcement made previously, that the plan is to create some forty enlarged municipal areas by amalgamation into suitable groups of the 166 municipal districts now in existence, together with 143 of the local improvement districts at present administered by the department of Municipal Affairs at Edmonton. The main object sought is a considerable economy in administration, both municipal and governmental, and greater efficiency throughout. It has been estimated that a saving of some $250,000 could be made in municipal districts alone, with a further considerable economy in provincial expenditures by the transfer of control of the 143 local improvement districts from the government at Edmonton to the various newly-created councils.

Boundaries of the proposed 40 new districts were arrived at after a careful study of all phases of the question, and were based on certain general principles, such as economic considerations, localities having a common interest, physical characteristics, etc.

Aside from the considerable economy to be effected, other advantages would be a more equalized assessment and a more equalized tax burden, and a more uniform system of road building.

One of the problems with which the government has been faced in considering the new plan is the adjustment of assets and liabilities of the various units to be included in the new areas.

In determining boundaries, of necessity some of the less fortunate units would be grouped with the better class areas, necessitating a policy of equalization. It is proposed that if and when the enlarged areas are formed, the new councils will be required to examine the surpluses and deficits of each included area, and report to an existing board or a board specially set up, for the purpose of determining how the surpluses or deficits shall be dealt with. The thought at the moment is to preserve the uniform rate of taxation, with the probability of relieving the areas which have surpluses, and surcharging the areas with deficits. Authority would be given to apply varying rates spread over a period of years to be determined by such board so that equalization can be brought about with no undue hardship to any particular area.

Following discussions which have taken place on the proposal, a new map has been prepared showing the proposed grouping of municipal districts, and this map will be made available to the public within the next two or three weeks. The map is, of course, tentative and may be altered if public discussion shows it to be in the best interests of all concerned.

WILL THEY FORGET?

Fourteen years ago, November 11, 1918, a war-weary world broke into a social joy as the mechanical agencies for conveying news flashed the word that an armistice had been reached, and the dove of peace once more soared aloft to hold its fledgling wings over battle-scarred Europe. "Peace at last!" They were words that carried new hope and comfort to the stoical and grief-stricken allies. Within a short time, as the world emerged from the black clouds that had enveloped it, there was but one thought uppermost: "There will never be another war among the civilized nations of the earth." Fifteen years have followed, each of which has seen some advance in military, naval or aerial powers by the nations. In the far East, the boom of guns has sounded often and civil strife has turned Christian progress backward. In the Occident, nations eye each other skeptically and manoeuvre endlessly to get an option on the coffer of prosperity. But underneath the flurry of international intrigue, there is strength that cannot be measured in gold or silver, guns or swords. It is the strength of those men who strive independently in a common cause, the uplift of humanity. They strive to create and further brotherly love, to tear down the barriers of prejudices and misanderstandings, and to fight ignorance and intolerance. Even as they believe in the Fatherhood of God, so do they believe in the brotherhood of man. They hold the stability of the world in their hands.—Ex.

RUSSIAN OIL FOR CANADIAN ALUMINUM WIRE

Russian crude oil is traded for Canadian aluminum, in fact Premier R. B. Bennett's attempt to establish an economic boycott of Russian commodities at the recent Imperial Economic Conference. Why use Russia any longer as a political hoodoo? If this thicker between America and the Aluminum Company of Canada is tolerated, why not throw the hamburger overboard and give full recognition to Russia?

The barter of oil for aluminum has given work to three hundred men in the Quebec factories of the Aluminum Company. How many men in the oil industry are displaced by the importation of nine thousand tons of crude from Baku? This is the only real question to answer. The Union of Soviet Republics today is one of the few countries in the world expressing a willingness to buy huge quantities of raw materials and finished products abroad. Does Canada want the business or does she wish to see some other nation get ahead of her?—Drumheller Mail.

LINDBERGH AND NEWSPAPERS

"At the time of the Lindbergh kidnapping, Editor and Publisher magazine performed a service for the press which should be brought to the public at large. This tragedy aroused tremendously high feeling the country over. Falling an apprehended criminal to Lame, a large part of the public considered the newspapers on the ground that the publicity they gave the case hindered the safe return of the child.

"Editor and Publisher surveyed the newspapers' treatment of the kidnapping. It obtained the facts directly from the newspapers and press associations, and from Colonel Lindbergh himself.

"These facts disclose that charges against the press are on the whole without foundation. They reveal also that the press imposed upon itself a censorship unprecedented in the history of journalism in the hope that the return of the child might thereby be facilitated."—Carl W. Ackerman, dean of Columbia University School of Journalism, in a report to the president of the school.

His motto is: If you cannot find work near to home, just look around.—Coleman Journal.

Some splendid trout were taken from the upper waters of the Castle river of Sunday last by E. Rhinall and Andy Dow. Several of them tipped the scales at from 5 to 6 pounds, and no bull!

Fred John Stokes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stokes, of Coleman, was married on September the 14th to Miss Isabel Young, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Young, of Evansburg, Alta. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. R. Jeffcott of Pincher Creek.

A little boy was sitting behind a bald-headed man in church. At intervals the man kept vigorously scratching at different locations in the fringe of hair that encircled the shining bald pate. The worshipper kept it up so long that the lad back of him became seriously interested. So the lad leaned over in the most solicitous manner he could command and said: "Mister, you'll never catch him there. Why don't you run him out in the open?"

A quiet wedding took place on Wednesday morning when Frederick Rancan Jacques, of Calgary, was united in marriage to Miss Catherine Megale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Megale, of Fernie. Miss Mary Megale, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, and Dr. Lillie, of Blairmore, supported the groom. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father McDynell. The happy young bride was the recipient of many beautiful wedding presents. Immediately following the wedding ceremony the bridal couple left for Calgary and Edmonton, where the honeymoon will be spent. Upon their return they will reside in Fernie.—Fernie Free Press.

Mrs. F. McDougall, of Hillcrest, opened her home on Saturday last for a tea, given under the auspices of the Catholic Women's League. The hostess, assisted by Mrs. F. Jones, welcomed the guests. Late summer flowers decorated the tables, which were in charge of Mrs. J. Lignicki, and the assistants were Misses Anna McNeill and Anna Tesolin. The home cooking and candy tables were in charge of Misses Mary R. McDougall and Peggy Jones. The lucky winner of the pillow cases was Miss Anna McNeill, with number fifty-four. The following were present: Mesdames W. McInnis, Bosley, Morris and Cardie, of Bellevue; Mesdames J. Penn, senior, A. Petrie, J. Mackie, A. Douglas, Cassagrande, F. Balfwill, Corbett, D. Grant, J. Penn, junior, W. Fisher, A. Evans, E. Rees, J. Norton, Houghton, Joe Norton, J. Seaman, F. Gregory, A. Lazarenko, Rofe, R. Richards, H. Orr, L. Fungagall, F. Worobec, P. McNeill and F. D'Ercole; Misses C. Cassagrande, Nellie Corbett, Nora Robinson, Connie Robinson, Clara Emery, Margaret Aitken, Cora Bosetti, Dorothy Jones and Nellie Lofstrand.

WORLD HAPPENINGS BRIEFLY TOLD

Sir Ronald Ross, noted authority on tropical diseases, is dead, aged 75. The adventurous whaling industry may be revived to prosperity on the British Columbia coast as a result of a rise in oil prices of 30 per cent.

Rolling an automobile before him, Emory Cross took off from Welland, Ont., on a seven-year jaunt around the world.

The city of Tarasus, home of Saint Paul, was swept by fire. The flames destroyed 144 houses with the loss of $100,000.

The admiralty ordered the keel to be laid on October 1 for Germany's third "pocket battleship," to be known for the present as "armored ship C."

For lack of funds Berlin streets have for years been so badly neglected that a number of important thoroughfares have now been closed for heavy trucks.

Mrs. W. Thirft, of Sidcup, England, whose husband was reported missing during the World War, has just been notified that he was killed near Cambrai.

A number of Alberta areas face a potato shortage because of two months of hot weather without rain this summer, according to Calgary merchants.

Sweden is motorized. Of every 100 vehicles one meets on its roads, only 11 are horse-drawn, the annual Swedish Road Congress at Gothenburg, Sweden, was told.

Sir Henry Simson, the physician who was in attendance at the birth of Princess Elizabeth and Princess Margaret Rose, children of the Duke of York, died suddenly of a heart attack. He was 60 years old.

Big Fur Shipment

Furs To Value Of Half A Million Arrive From H.B. Region

A ton and a half of fur from the northern barren lands, principally from along the west coast of Hudson Bay, passed through The Pas, Man., recently, on the way to the markets of the world. The shipment is valued at roughly half a million dollars.

The fur-fox, mink, marten—was caught during the past year by Eskimos, Indians, and white trappers in the sub-Arctic wastes. Only the richest and most choice fur was brought down.

From Chesterfield Inlet and other points it was flown to Churchill by the three Junkers planes of the Canadian Airways, and then loaded on to the famous muskeg train that plies between the northern port and The Pas, Manitoba.

The fur will go by Canadian National Railways to the Revillon Freres Company in Canada and the Hudson Bay Company in London, England.

Epitaph Was Fitting

Tombstone Dealer (after several futile suggestions): "How would just a simple 'Gone Home' do for an inscription?"

The Widow: "I guess that will be all right. It was always the last place he ever thought of going."

A: "Do you know your wife is telling everyone you can't keep her in clothes?"

B: "That's nothing. I bought her a home and I can't keep her in that either."

It is so much easier to succeed after the others have quit.

"If that is art, I am a fool."
"Yes, it is art and of the best kind."

Gift For Schenectady

Historical Society

Office Chair Was Once Owned By Thomas Edison

A large old-fashioned chair owned by Thomas A. Edison, in the early days of the Edison General Electric Company, has been presented to the County Historical Society by the General Electric Company. It has witnessed in a sense the whole growth of the electrical industry in Schenectady. Amos Underwood, production manager of the turbine department at the Schenectady works, fell heir to it on the retirement of Langdon Gibson, former production manager of the Schenectady works. Gibson obtained the chair early in his career with the company and carried it with him from office to office.

Believe It Or Not

Earthworms In Australia Attain Length Of Ten Feet

An earthworm, native to south-eastern Australia, attains extreme lengths of ten or twelve feet and diameters of three-fourths of an inch, although the average specimen is only three or four feet long. It belongs to the same species as our common earthworms. The progress of these gigantic worms through the soil is attended by gurgling and sucking sounds clearly audible to persons walking on the surface. Their eggs resemble large olives. Related species which attain a length of several feet are found in parts of South America, Java and other sections of the world.

A WRAP-AROUND MODEL FOR YOU IF YOU'RE A WEE BIT HEAVY

Still another smart and flattering style for matrons.

And it's cut on the wrap-over lines so becoming and liked. There's a slenderizing bias line at the front and at the back that reduces the hip bulk. The shawl collar is very becoming. And don't you like the shaped sleeve cuff?

So many charming materials can be used for this slim-line model.

Style No. 746 is designed in sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48 inches bust. Size 36 requires 3 1/2 yards of 39-inch material with 1/2 yard of 39-inch contrasting.

Price of pattern 25 cents in stamps or coin (coin is preferred). Wrap coin carefully.

CANADIAN DELEGATES GO TO GENEVA

Hon. C. H. Cahan, Secretary of State for Canada (right), has sailed for Geneva to head the Canadian delegation to the meetings of the assembly of the League of Nations convening on September 26. He is accompanied by Madame Chertie Fremont (left), who is one of the three delegates representing this Dominion.

A Mark Of Distinction

Ability To Keep Ears Open And Mouth Shut

A man seeking a job advertises in this way in a New York newspaper: "I have just enough brains to keep my mouth shut, my ears open and present a good executive appearance. Do you need a front for your business?"

We suspect the gentleman is not being quite frank with his public. Probably he is a very shrewd, capable person who thinks an air of humility, of self-deprecation, an original line of approach, may achieve the results likely to be denied a more orthodox recital of his good qualities.

The fact is, of course, that ability to keep the mouth shut and the ears open is a mark of considerable distinction and a virtue commonly denied to a great many persons. The "front" of "good executive appearance" and "nothing to back it up is much more apt to keep his mouth open and his ears shut. If he knows enough to reverse the process he is more than just a front—Ottawa Journal.

Treasures Of Harewood House

Henry Lascelles, Original Owner, Was West Indian Millionaire

Harewood House, near Leeds, England, where the King and Queen spent a week-end in August, with the Princess Royal and Lord Harewood, was built about 150 years ago at a cost of $120,000. It took 12 years to erect. The State apartments command a magnificent view of beautiful Wharfedale, and contain some wonderful ceilings, plaques and paintings, as well as some of the finest specimens of Chippendale furniture in the world. Henry Lascelles, the son of the Harewood family, was a West Indian millionaire, and in Harewood House there are nearly 60 "massive mahogany doors made from wood grown on the West Indian estates.

Recipes For This Week

(By Betty Barakat)

ORANGE AMBROSIA DESSERT SALAD (Serves 4-6)

This is a modern version, adapted to salad serving, of the ambrosia which was Grandmother's favorite company dessert. Ambrosia, by the way, was the food served the Greek gods in their feasts on Mount Olympus. While this ambrosial and delectable combination of orange coconut will not induce the immortality given by the ambrosia of the gods, it is a dessert par excellence for better health.

6 oranges.
1 cup strained honey.
1 can coconut.

Peel oranges, removing skin and cut to juicy pulp. Cut in slices and cut slices in half. Dip each piece of orange in honey which is placed in a shallow dish, then in coconut. Arrange on crisp lettuce leaves. Serve with whipped cream to which a little mayonnaise has been added.

COOKED SALAD DRESSING

1/2 cup evaporated milk.
1/4 cup water.
1 teaspoon dry mustard.
1/2 teaspoon salt.
1 tablespoon granulated sugar.
2 tablespoons flour.
Dash of cayenne.
2 egg yolks.
2 tablespoons butter.
1/4 cup vinegar.

Blend evaporated milk with water and bring to scalding point in a double boiler. Thoroughly mix dry ingredients. Add slightly beaten egg yolks gradually and blend carefully. Pour hot milk slowly over egg mixture, stirring constantly. Return to double boiler. Add butter and cook until mixture thickens, stirring constantly. Heat vinegar, and add slowly. Blend thoroughly, strain and cool. Makes 1 1/2 cups.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

OCTOBER 1

CHRISTIAN STANDARDS OF LIFE —THE CHRISTIAN'S DEVOTIONAL LIFE

Golden Text: "Grow in the grace and knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ."—2 Peter 3:18.
Lesson: Psalms: 111-16; 119:9-16; Daniel 6:10; Matthew 6:16-17; 3:14-17.
Devotional Reading: Psalm 122.

Explanations and Comments

Prayer in the Christian's Devotional Life, Matthew 6:5-15.—It was the appearance of righteousness that the hypocrites coveted, not the righteousness itself, and Jesus bids His disciples not to pray as they do—standing in conspicuous places to be seen of men. They have received their reward, said Jesus; they have been seen of men and this was what they desired; they have no claim whatsoever to any further reward.

"After this manner therefore pray ye," thus the Lord's Prayer is presented in Matthew's Gospel. It does not mean that the prayer which follows is the only one to be offered. Rather it is our counsel to let our prayers be constituted like this Model Prayer, to let them deal with divine and human interests, with spiritual and physical wants. It reminds us of many things which we are prone to forget when we commune with God. Too many think of prayer as petition for personal needs or desires, whereas this prayer is for others as well as for self, and is concerned chiefly with God's interests and our spiritual needs.

The prayer naturally divides into two parts: first, the things of God; second, the things of man. "Our Father," is the address with which the prayer begins. God is powerful—our Father begins. God is never so addressed in the Old Testament, but Jesus Himself always addressed Him as Father.

"Prayer is communion with God, not as the Supreme Governor who controls the universe, but as the Father who advises, strengthens, and forgives His children in answer to their cry of need."—Kingsley Lake.

Our Father, who art in heaven. "This is more, shall I say, than God's postal address. Our Father is in the place of supreme dominion, love rules the universe."—J. D. Jones.

Hallowed be Thy name. The name of God stands for God Himself. He revealed name. Hallowed means treated as holy, revered, rightly worshipped. In this petition we pray that we may honor the Father in thought and life.

Thy Kingdom come. Let Thy sovereignty be realized, and it will be when the word of the next petition becomes true: when every one's will is in as perfect accord with God's will as was the will of Jesus.

Veteran Doctor Honored

Kansas People Pay Tribute To Traditions He Represented

When nearly 70 thousand persons assembled at Mulvane, Kansas, recently to honor the veteran physician who had ushered them into the world, they paid tribute not only to an individual but also to the traditions he represented.

The old-fashioned country physician was one of the heroes of his profession. Scientific names now dignify the shrewd psychology he administered along with his pills and powders. Under conditions that would be considered impossible today, he performed many feats of surgery. No man was too deep and no hindrance was too binding to keep him from answering a call to duty. The midnight beat of hoofs along the pike usually meant that he had sacrificed another night's rest in order to relieve some one's suffering.

The old-time country doctor is passing. As with the circuit rider and the colporteur, his type will eventually become extinct. But the recent assemblage in Kansas shows that modern medicine can well afford to honor the traditions of courage and duty that thousands of country doctors left behind them.—New York Evening Post.

Education Investment

Money Spent In This Way Is Never

The nation should spend not less money, but more, on education. An elementary school child costs the public $65 a year, a secondary school about $100. Who so foolish as to regard these moderate sums as excessive, or too burdensome for the nation to carry? Every penny spent on education is an investment which brings a hundredfold return. There is no asset comparable to a generation sound in mind, healthy in body, and adequately equipped to fight the battles of life.—London Daily Herald.

A dromedary bears the same relation to a camel as a race horse does to a draft horse.

DEFINITE HELP FOR DWELLERS IN APARTMENTS

Odorous waste found to cook fish, cauliflower and cabbage

CANAPAR IS A PRODUCT OF HAMILTON FIRM

Lives there a woman, in apartment, duplex or home, who has not at some time or other reluctantly foregone fish, cabbage, and cauliflower because of the odors they give off when being cooked? Or who has not suffered from other people close by who cooked these foods regardless? Canapar entirely does away with this annoyance. More than that, it actually improves flavor and food value. Cooking in Canapar parallels the famous French method of simmering and confining food and its flavours to the closed casserole. Canapar comes in large sheets, in a handy-size package. When boiling vegetables you simply wet the sheet of Canapar and make a bag similar to a pudding bag. If you are steaming them you line your steamer with Canapar, arrange food and seasoning, and fold back corners of the Canapar to prevent steam from dripping back.

Boiled or steamed fish is particularly delicious done this way. No fishy odor in the kitchen, no gummy kettle to clean. When roasting meat, line the pan with Canapar. It prevents the fat and juices from burning, and eliminates scouring of the pan afterwards.

Canapar saves fuel. You can cook three vegetables simultaneously in the same saucepan with it, without intermingling of flavors. And it is very economical. Just rinse the sheet after using it, hang it on the towel rack to dry. Use it over and over again. Lots of women use Canapar for a dish cloth—it is so silky and satisfactory and does not spread lint. This is particularly good use if you happen to pierce the sheet of Canapar while testing the food during the cooking. Canapar is made by the makers of PARASAN—the famous heavy wadded paper in the Green box.

Special Offer. Most grocers, drugstores and department stores sell Canapar. If yours doesn't, send the coupon direct and we'll give you a new and unique "Left-overs" recipe containing one hundred recipes as a bonus for your trouble.

Applied Paper Products, Ltd., Hamilton, Ontario.

Two British Pilots Make Claims To

New British Record

British pilots, flying at opposite ends of the Empire, have advanced claims to two new aviation altitude records.

Captain Cyril Unwins claimed a new record for hard planes, with a flight to 45,000 feet at Bristol. The official record is 43,154.9 feet, held by Lieutenant Apollo Coucek, United States navy.

At Port Darwin, Australia, an amphibian attached to the British navy's ship, "Albatross," was reported as claiming a new altitude record for that type of ship, with a flight to 23,000 feet.

It was also claimed that a balloon released from the "Albatross" (without passengers) reached a height of 70,000 feet, or more than 15 miles. This was set up as a record. There are no official records for passengerless balloons. Professor Auguste Piccard rose nearly 11 miles over Italy in his latest stratospheric ascension.

Many Veterans Employed

England has completed arrangements for the retention permanently in the government employment of more than 13,000 ex-service clerks, who had been given temporary employment. They will be engaged on a pensionable basis. In addition more than 2,000 temporary women clerks and stenographers are to be given pensionable employment.

Rice was brought to this country by a sea captain, returning from a voyage to Madagascar, in 1694.

THE HOUSE OF DREAMS-COME-TRUE

BY MARGARET FREDER

Author of "The Splendid Fall," "The Hermit of Far East," "Holler & Stoughton, Ltd., London."

"Rest?" she said. "Rest? Do you realize that I shall have all the remainder of life to—rest in? There'll be nothing else to do."

She released herself very gently from Tormarin's arms; and crossing the room to the window, stood looking out.

"How funny!" she said in a rather high-pitched uncertain voice. "It all looks just the same—although everything in the world is changed."

He came and stood by her side. "No," he said quietly. "Nothing is changed, dear. Our love is the same as it was before. Always remember that."

"But we can't ever marry now."

"No. We can't marry—now. You'll never have the Tormarin temper to bear with, after all."

She laid her hand swiftly across his lips.

"Oh, it was dreadful!" she said, recalling the terrible scene which she had interrupted. "It—it—hardly seemed—you, Blaise."

"For the moment it wasn't. It was the Tormarin devil—the curse of every generation. But I think that Varigny woman could turn a saint into a devil if she tried! She said something about you—and I couldn't stand it."

"Was that it? Then I suppose I shall have to forgive you—with a pale little attempt at a smile."

But the half-hearted smile faded again almost instantly.

"Oh, Blaise, what would your temper matter if it could still be together?" she cried passionately. "Nothing in the wide world would matter, then!"

Presently she spoke again.

"But it's worse for you than for me. I wish it were more equal."

"How worse for me? I don't understand. Unless—with a brief, and smile—you love me less?"

"Ah, you know I don't mean that! I've only the separation to face. I'm not tied to somebody I don't love. You've got Neta to consider."

"Neta!" He gave a short, grim laugh. "Neta can go back to where she came from."

There was a long silence. At last Jean broke it.

"Blaise, you can't do that—you can't send her away again," she said in quick, low tones. "She's your wife."

"My wife! She seems to have been oblivious of the fact—and to have wished me to be equally oblivious of it—for the last few years."

"Yes, of course she's been wrong, wickedly wrong. But that doesn't alter the fact that she's your responsibility, Blaise. You must take her back."

"Take her back?"—violently. "I'll be shot if I do. She's chosen to live her life without me for the last few years—she can continue to do so."

Jean laid her hand on his arm. She was smiling wistfully.

"Dear, you'll have to take her back," she persisted gently. "Don't you see—she's not wholly to blame?"

for SPRAINS

MINARD'S LINIMENT

W. M. U. 1901

You've admitted that. You've blamed yourself in a large measure for her running away. It's up to you now to put things straight, to—give her the chance she didn't have before."

"You're discounting these last few years," he returned gravely. "These years in which she has lived a lie, allowing me to believe her dead—cheating and deceiving me as no man was ever cheated before. She's cheated me out of my happiness—she's cheated me out of you from me!"

"Yes, I know," Jean's voice quivered, but she steeled it again. "But even in that, she was not solely to blame. You've told me how—how weak she is and easily led away. And she's very young. What chance would Neta have of asserting her will against her sister's, even had she wished to return to you? She ran away from Staple in a fit of temper and because you had frightened her. After that—you can see for yourself—"

Madame de Varigny is responsible for everything that has happened since."

Tormarin remained silent. The quiet justice of Jean's summing up of the situation struck at him hard.

She waited a moment, then added quietly:

"I must take her back, Blaise."

He wheeled round on her violently. "And you?" he exclaimed. "You? Did you ever love me, Jean, that you can talk so coolly about turning me over to another woman?"

She whitened at the bitter accusation in his tones, but she did not flinch.

"It's just because I love you, Blaise, that I want you to do this thing—to do the only thing that is worthy of you. Oh, my dear, my dear!"—her hands went out to him in sudden helpless pleading. "Do you think it's easy for me to ask it?"

The desolate cry pierced him. He caught her in his arms, kissing her fiercely, adoringly.

"Sweetheart! Forgive me! I'm half mad, I think. Be brave, say that you forgive me!"

She leaned against him, glad to feel the straining clasp of his arms about her—to rest once more in her place against his heart.

"Dearest of all," she said tremulously, "there is no question of forgiveness between us two. There never will be. We're just—both of us—struggling in the dark, and there's only duty—brokenly—only duty—to hold to."

"They stood together in silence, comforted just a little by the mere human touch of each other in this communion of sorrow which had so suddenly come upon them, yet knowing in their hearts that this was the comfort that must forever be denied them in the lonely future."

At last Jean raised her head from its resting-place and her eyes sought Blaise's face, asking the question she could no longer bring herself to put in words. He met her gaze.

"Jean," he said with a sigh. "I do this thing—take Neta back."

"He felt a shudder run through her frame. Twice she tried ineffectually to answer. At last she forced her dry lips to utter an affirmative."

"So be it."

"Jean," he said, looking at her ears like the knell to the whole meaning of life. The future was settled. Henceforth their lives must lie apart.

"So be it," said Blaise. "She shall come back and take her place again at Staple."

Jean clung to him a little closer.

"Blaise, beloved—I know the harder part will be yours. But mine won't be easy, dear. I shall go to Charnwood to be with Claire at once—tomorrow—and it won't be easy, when I see in an evening the lights twinkle up at Staple, shut in from the world to gether, while I'm outside—always outside your life and your love."

"You'll never be outside my love," he said wistfully. "That's yours, now and forever. And no other woman shall rob you of one jot or tittle of it, were she my wife twenty times over. I will bring Neta back to Staple, and she shall bear my name and live as my wife in the eyes of the world. But my love—that is yours, utterly and entirely. Yours and no other's."

She lifted her face to his, and their lips met in a kiss that was a seal of love and all love's faithfulness.

"So is mine yours," she said. "Now and forever, in this world and the next. Oh, Blaise—beloved!"—she clung to him in a passion of love and anguish and straining belief—"Some day, surely, in that other world, God will give us freedom to take our happiness!"

CHAPTER XXXIII.

The Returning Tide

Two months had elapsed since Fate's dividing sword had fallen, for ever separating Jean from the man she loved, and the subsequent march of events, with the many changes involved and the bitter loneliness of soul entailed, had made the two months seem to her more like two years.

She had left Staple for Charnwood on the day following that of Madame de Varigny's visit. It was no longer possible for her to remain under the same roof with Blaise, where the enforced strain of meeting each other daily, and of endeavouring to behave as though nothing more than mere commonplace friendship linked them together, would have been too great for either of them to endure even for the few remaining days which still intervened before the date originally planned for her departure.

Lady Anne, with her usual sympathetic insight, had made no effort to dissuade her, reluctant though she had been to part with her. For herself, the fact that Neta was alive had come upon her in the light of an almost overwhelming blow. She had never liked the girl, whereas she had grown to look upon Jean as a beloved daughter, and no one had rejected more sincerely than his mother when Blaise had confided to her the news of his engagement. At last she would see that grey page in his life turned down for ever and the beginning of a newer, fairer page, illuminated with happiness! And instead, like a tide that has receded far out and then rushes in again with redoubled energy, the whole misery and sorrow of the past had returned upon him, a thousand times accentuated by reason of his love for Jean.

It was with a heavy heart, therefore, that Lady Anne, together with Nick, quitted Staple and established herself for the second time at the Dover House, retiring thither in favour of Neta who was now installed once more at the Manor. And the thought of how gladly she would have effected the same change, had it been Jean whom Blaise was bringing home as his bride, added but a keener pang to her sorrow.

She watched with anxious eyes the progress of events at Staple. At the commencement of the new regime Neta had appeared genuinely repentant and ashamed of her conduct in the past, and there was something disarming in the little, half-appealing smile with which she had, at first, resumed her position of mistress of Staple, deferring eagerly to Blaise on every point and trying her utmost to please him and conform to his wishes. It held something of the appeal of a forgiven child who tries to atone for former naughtiness by "if almost alarming excess of virtue."

She accepted with meek docility Blaise's decision regarding the purely formal relations upon which their married life was henceforth to be based, apparently humbly thankful to be released as his wife on any terms whatsoever that he chose to dictate.

"I know I have been bad," she declared, "to run away and leave you like that. I can't—forcibly—hope for you to love me again—"

And Tormarin had replied with unmistakable decision:

"No, you can't hope for that. And I'm glad you understand and recognize the fact. Still, we can try to be good friends, Neta, at least?"

But this tranquil state of things—this last for a comparatively long time. Very soon, as the novelty and satisfaction of her reinstatement began to wear off, Neta became more self-assured and, apparently, considerably less frequently visited by spasms of repentance.

Her bitterness had could retain no very deep impression for any length of time, and gradually the characteristics of the old Neta—the pettish, self-willed, pleasure-loving woman of former times—began to reassert themselves.

Blaise tried hard to exercise forbearance with her and to treat her, at least with justice, and with a certain need of kindness. But she did not second his efforts. Instead, she became more exigent and difficult as time passed on.

She was no longer satisfied by the fact that she was once more installed as the mistress of Staple. She demanded a husband who would surround her with all the little observances that only love lends, and she dictated whom she could alternately scold and cajole as the fancy took her, but who would always come back to her, after a tiff, ready anew to play the adoring lover.

LOVE'S WORDS

Love has few words. Each threadbare phrase Has rung through countless lovers' phrases Since Caesar sought Egyptian ways And Jacob served in Rachel's house.

So poor are they, so old, so weak, So foolish and such futile things. In vain does every lover seek New speech to lend his longing wings.

So poor? But, ah, how sweet, how dear They fall upon the eager ear: The words of love that still each fears And bring the sense of heaven near!

So it must be old loves bestow Their worth, till treasure waxes vast, And love's few words the richer grow From all the passion of the past.

Captures Honors Again

Mile. Odette Plais, the world's speed-typing champion, has again won the championship of the French Typing Academy at Hoven, France, making the seventh successful time for her to capture the honors. She averaged a speed of 90 words a minute copying unknown text and 120 words a minute for sentence repeated over and over. She also won the regularity championship. Mile. Plais became the world word champion last October in Paris.

The Real Edison

Was Very Human and Had An Engaging Personality

In a recent issue of Harper's, there appears an intimate study of Thomas Edison by one of his laboratory associates that will probably be an eye-opener to the public which knew the great inventor only by reputation. Interviewers, especially in late years, had pictured him as a somewhat ill-mannered, gentle old man, a patriarchal figure commanding respect and admiration; the magazine writers of gentlemen of the press laid it on rather thick and gave us the general impression that Edison was an immortal star and a human being afterward.

His intimates, of course, knew him for what he was and it is good that the rest of us should likewise be in on the truth. For Edison was a rare spirit, full of an Elizabethan gusto. How many of us had regarded him as being more or less saintly—photographs of him somehow suggested that—and how pleasant it is to discover that he was full of the most engaging humors and traits imaginable. There was a vigor and vitality about him that would have distinguished him from the general hum of mankind, had he never become a famous inventor. He seems to have had his own ideas about every subject on earth and to have set them forth with a raciness of expression that did the listener's heart good.

There is a tendency to give the immortals their due more on the side of achievement than on character and personality; certainly that is true in Edison's case. To read Mr. Rosanoff's study of him is to appreciate Edison in the role of a man in which he was quite as successful as in the field of invention.—Detroit Saturday Night.

Little Helps For This Week

Prayer is a character builder. Men are influenced by their associates. If they talk with wise men they get wisdom from them, power from the strong, gentleness from the kind, and sincerity from the humble. If men associate with God in prayer God will mould them. If we will spend time with Him, whether we are alone or in public places, he will work upon us and build Himself and His likeness in us.—Robert E. Speer.

Now abideth speech, example, prayer, but the greatest of these is prayer.—St. Bernard.

"O Thou by whom we come to God, The Life, the Truth, the Way, The path of prayer Thyself has trod; Lord, teach us how to pray."

Great Contribution To Progress Of World

Art Of Printing From Movable Type Man's Greatest Invention

In the midst of all the discoveries and inventions, it may not be generally known that the art of printing from movable type is perhaps the greatest invention ever devised by the mind of man. It provided the facilities for the giving of knowledge to the masses. Through the medium of books, pamphlets, newspapers and other forms of literature, knowledge previously in the hands of monks spread throughout the world. To the mind of man it gave light where formerly darkness prevailed. It is almost impossible to estimate the progress that has been made in the world through this great invention.

Irving Brown, Columbia University professor, New York, has punctured the belief that gypsies have kings and queens who arrange royal marriages and such like. The professor, who spends his vacations among the Romany rovers, said that the talk about gypsy royalty is "an American fancy." It is against the spirit of gypsies to have rulers, he said.
